You shall feel proud of yourself., You shall have many marriage proposals ;) from your neighbours to far away uncle and auntie's., In functions your relatives will seek your advice for JEE for their xyz., You may have no relation with certain project or mission, which isro would have done recently, but you have to be prepared for answering doubts of your family and friends., You will be one of the highest tax payer of your batch :), You shall have many questions to answer in quora as well :), Why did you leave ISRO?, How is your life after getting SC at ISRO?, How is the daily life of an ISRO fresh recruit?, How is life being an ISRO scientist?, How is the scientist/engineer post in ISRO? How will be the life?, ISRO has a gargantuan hierarchy, starting from technicians to Scientists of distinguished class., The job comes with respect and special perks, although a person working here won't feel the same because his/her ambience will consist mostly of Scientists/Engineers of different grades who will be enjoying the same benefits so that feeling of being special degrades over time., The job pays you well. Joining as a Scientist/Engineer-SC, you're liable to a grade-A pay at level 10 in the pay matrix of 7th pay commission., Division allotment has nothing to do with your work/project history or area of interest. It is mostly governed by existence of vacancies in different divisions and groups unless you're lucky enough to get a work of your choice., Your career depends a lot on your boss. You must and must hope for a good boss. The term goodness is person specific and will vary person to person depending upon their expectations from work. Your boss plays a major role in your promotions as well., The level of effort you put in for your work is different from how you put your work up. You must know how to show off and exaggerate, your seniors will cherish the destination rather than the journey., Getting transfer to another ISRO centre is highly improbable unless you try for mutual transfer or have strong reasons like marriage, health issues etc., You'll be interacting with some of the brightest minds of the country. There are people who have spent more than 35 years on a particular work. These are people who have risen from the bookish preachings and realized things which actually fly., Your family, friends and relatives will respect you and you'll be getting many marriage offers., What is the social life of an ISRO scientist?, Is isro life worth it?, Does studying in IIST offer a permanent job in the ISRO or a job only for five years?, How is the work-life balance in ISRO?, How was your ISRO interview experience?, Are formals compulsory in ISRO?, What do NASA staff think about ISRO?, Where is ISRO located?, How powerful is ISRO?, How is the life at ISRO for a Mechanical engineer?, How is life at ISRO for a CSE student?, How do I get into ISRO after pursuing mechanical engineering?, What are the job opportunities we will be getting after doing an M.Tech or an MS at the prestigious IIST?, How is life working at ISRO as an electrical engineer?, Does ISRO recruit experience engineers?, Why did you leave ISRO?, How is your life after getting SC at ISRO?, How is the daily life of an ISRO fresh recruit?, How is life being an ISRO scientist?, How is the scientist/engineer post in ISRO? Industries and defence organizations, NSTL, INDIAN NAVY, STEEL PLANT, HPCL, DOCKYARD and many more., So, there are so many good things about vizag., The Beauty of the Vizag can't explain by the words, it has to be experienced by a visit. It's a beautiful and developing city in India having beach on one side and greenery on other side. There is beautiful place called araku (Andhra ooty) is 100km from Vizag. One should see the beauty of araku in his life. The traffic here is moderate. There are many educational institutions are there. While coming to the transportation busstation, railway station and airport are very near to each other. It is the best place to do shootings. There is a Ramanaidu studio., promoted by Digital Vidya, A city with a heart, you can find people quite friendly. The food is mouth watering. The beauty of the ocean, the sea shells following Fibonacci. Those beautiful highways going through the city., Needless to say, its beach on one side and lush green hills on another side. There's Araku valley (Andhra's ooty) which is 100 km from vizag and lambasinghi (where you can experience 0° temperature and sometimes even much less)., Apart from nature, vizag started getting into pace in adopting metropolitan culture (breweries, clubs) and events happening (stand-up comedy) in and around. To sum it up, it is considered to be a peaceful city with no traffic jams and excess vehicular pollution., Visakhapatnam has old world charm just like Boston it is a best cosmopolitan city on East coast, Definitely the Beach, promoted by GREedge, Every place in Visakhapatnam is good, Still have a question? Ask your own!][, Some of the best restaurants I have been and I wish to share are :, Green park : for midnight biryani especially Good food with nice ambience and its unlimited after clock ticks 11.30 pm, Deepak Punjabi dhaba : if u are checking for tandoori chicken, butter chicken and paneer butter masala I would prefer this, Bake my wish: it won't give you the look of a star hotel but definitely very good ambience with all kinds of food Inc continental., Sai ram parlor: its an 24*7 outlet for vegetarian meals, Alpha hotel: if you are checking for nice ambience don't go there it's dim and always too rushy. It's just loaded with tons of people for biryani at reasonable price., Avakai : you will find tangy and spicy and tasty food over here at reasonable price but can't bear tons of people at once., Visakapatnam won't bore you with its food, You can even try evening snacks at places below, Bakers castle : it serves you the best pastries and nice place to hang out with friends., Food ex & jackfrost: serves you the best pastries & burgers., HSBC junction: you will find egg Dosa, pani puri down the alley., PCC: place itself defines pastry coffee conversations. Gud ambiance and people who crave for black coffee and dark pastries should visit here once in a while & Smoothies behind Ice Age, Mvp : sector 5 known for chat and pani puri., Mvp circle takes you to different kinds of dosa trucks, And road leading to zilla parishad takes you to spicy road side kebabs. Here it's tasty but I don't prefer this much, Beach Road : Aww you can find kachori s at the start and continue with Momos and then rajastani chat and vada Pav and move on to manchow noodles and kebab again and end with healthy juices beside Spencers, Yea liver fry & biryani @ raju gari dhaba, Sponze Dosa @ venkatadri vantillu & specially their chutneys were too good, Tycoon is good at both food & ambiance, D cabana especially for its ulavacharu biryani and fish starters & live BBQ in the evenings..., Ambience was too good over there nice view of beach, May be I can add on the list..., Thanks for making me remember dese places again , promoted by Digital Vidya, Being a middle class one, i have visited only a few of the restaurants, I my view i would like to classify the best restaurants on these basis, ON THE BASIS OF TIME, If you' re looking to eat as much of Biryani as you can after 11:30 in the night, no further questions. Get down to GREEN PARK and have your fill. The menu rarely changes and I' ve been there so many times by now that I can probably recollect it from memory. But really, amazing food, nice ambiance, friendly staff and unlimited quantity., ON THE BASIS OF SERVICE:, An institution in itself, ALPHA HOTEL prides itself on good food at reasonable prices. If you' re looking for an amazing ambiance, don' t go here. The place is dim and pretty depressing, but the food more than compensates for it. Overdose on biriyani here ! . You' ll see tons of people at any given point in the day., You will travel to Vizag for Biryani next time.!, How much ?400 for 2 people. Southie recommends Biryani. Liver fry., ON THE BASIS OF SAVORIES:, LADDU GOPAL :, Where? MVP double road. What? Sweet stuff. Spicy stuff. Hot stuff. Good stuff. Everything from chaat to sweets, this guy gives me a distinctly north indian vibe in mana Vizag. And his pav bhaji is really good. And yes, all of the items are made fresh before your eyes. How much? 200 for 2 people. Southie recommends: Pav Bhaji. Jalebi. Kachori., BAKE MY WISH:, Where? Near Delhi Public school, Lawson' s Bay. What? A bakery with probably the sweetest owner you' ll ever come across. Sirisha will make sure you get the tastiest grub in town , all of which come at a very reasonable price. With variations including a frankie like dosa and pastries with exotic flavors in them, you can be guaranteed to have some amazing food here. How much? 400 for 2 people., ON THE BASIS OF RECREATION:, For this i have specially visited as i heard a word from friends that the taste is good and my friend forced me to go and have a dinner, I have suprised for their serving they serve the biryani on a handi, which the four have to eat on the same large dish. Go and have a visit with your family. The taste is also good. You will find it amazing if you are a person who is interested in recreation, The restaurant is none other than, Arabian family restaurant, promoted by GREedge, Well, you don' t have anything 'special' to try out there like you have Subbaiah hotel in Kakinada, as far as I know its only the Bamboo chicken from Araku Valley is a variety from here, but you could try these for good food., P.S.: You might be familiar with the last three entries if you are from a metropolitan city, they are somewhat recent entries into Visakhapatnam., P.P.S.: Did not mention Novotel, Sheraton, cream stone and places like these as its the same in every city., Waking up in the morning to the sounds of sea, and to come out and see ourselves nestled in the Eastern Ghats, is a thing only Vizagites (Residents of Vizag, we fall ourselves so) can best describe., Added to this are the delicacies you find here, which I should mention are not the food chains, but the local authentic food getaways that Vizagites have been savoring for the past decade..., To Mention a few :, These are a few local roadside food Stalls. But in the past 2 years Vizag has seen a boom of food trucks and food entrepreneurs. Thanks to people traveling across India, who stated admiring cuisines from the other side of the globe tooo..., Few include., The list goes on.. It's the enthusiasm of a foodie that makes one know the potential of Vizag as a food destination., Happy Holidays and a Happy New Year., For street foods, Vizag, The City of Destiny. The beautiful city that makes anyone visiting the city fall in love with has more reasons than the beach, scenic beauty and other. It's those amazing local food courts and those yummy Food they serve. Don't miss trying these places in Vizag.!, 1. BAKER'S CASTLE :, Baker's Castle VizagSourceSouth Report, Where?, Siripuram., What?, A bakery without the frills. and other drinks, 40. PCC for desserts and pasta, 41. bismilla chicken noodles near Zilla Parishad., 42. Fish and chips at the food truck near puri jaganath temple behind waltair club., Vizag is a heart throbbing city..with good environment., U can try these restaurants when here., 1.Novotel ., (Location is superb. The very look of the building is amazing. Centre of the beach. Rooms are spacious and very well maintained.The food here is average to below average. Many restaurants around to compensate for that though. Great place to stay.), 2.Barbeque Nation., (For all the foodies out there, a perfect destination for you. The food especially the starters are too delicious. More than that the hospitality of the staff is a striking feature. You will be filled with extreme pleasure when ever the staff serve you with smile.Every dish out there is yummylicious. Best try♥), 3.Tycoon Multi-Cuisine Restaurant., (great food and ambience..mostly u find food tasty..), 4.Venkatadri Vantillu., (Simple place for tiffins and meals. Economic prices. Food tastes good here.), 5.Four Points by Sheraton Visakhapatnam., (modern hotel offering refined rooms and 2 retaurants,plus an outdoor pool and a day spa.), Apart from these retaurant feels.., u need to try.., 1.BAKER' S CASTLE, 2. GREENPARK MIDNIGHT BIRYANI, 3.PASTRY, COFFEE AND CONVERSATIONS (PCC), 4.BAKE MY WISH, 5.ALPHA HOTEL, 6.LADDU GOPAL...ETC!!!, SORRY. IF I MISSED THE REST..BY STATED AS MANY I COULD!!!, Depending on your tastes there are quite a few restaurants in Vizag to satisfy or at least tickle your taste buds ., Can't list all for obvious reasons and the below list is just an indication – not in any particular order of preference., Good budget and Taste., South Indian Veg –, Sri Sairam Parlour (Diamond Park branch but has some waiting time )., North Indian– Punjabi Dhaba ( Siripuram), Sweet India, Laddu Gopal., Multicuisine – Daspalla Tycoon. ( VIP Road), Dolphin Hotel ., Hyderabad Biryani – Paradise , Alfa & Zeeshan ., Barbecue Nation , KFC, Pizza Hut, Mc Donalds , Domino' s are also available ., Beach Road has an array of fast food caterers ., One, There are many restaurants in Vizag. But there is no special dish that is found n Vizag., There are some iconic food places., There are many places in Vizag beach line. You just need to have your own vehicle. Start your vehicle... roam all the beach line... all the food trucks serve delicious food. Eat and enjoy the beach., Prakash., Edit: Thank you Neeharika Karri for your suggestion., If you' re looking for good South Indian food , you could go to the following restaurants:, Additionally , if you are high on budget and looking out for good Indian food you could go to The Park, Gateway , Novotel and Green Park and Four Points, If you' re looking for Italian cuisine , you could go to, Other places worth a mention would be Sai Ram Parlor and Raju gari dhaba( Rushikonda), Visakhapatnam or Vizag as its popularly known, has various cuisines to offer with many international chains having set-up shop along with experimental cafes and restaurants. However, to get an authentic feel of Andhra food, I will suggest finding the nearest “Andhra Mess” which are traditional QSR where you get a standard thali fare everyday but the food is fresh and finger-licking good with fast moving items., Also, Daspalla Hotel in Jagadamba is a good hotel with very nice restaurants to have all meals. It is packed with reservations required once you reach. Thali is very famous here along with varieties of dosas., ANother thing I will recommend is visiting the Ming Garden restaurant in the Taj Gateway Hotel on Beach road. The cuisine is true to the flavours without the Indi-CHinese taste but really good food., Still have a question? Ask your own!], I have lived in both vizag and hyderabad. Although I hail from vizag I have spent a part of my childhood in hyderabad. So I would sum it up like this., Vizag Metropolitan region area(5573 sq. km.), Vizag city area(650 sq.km.) due to recent inclusions of some wards into the city but only linear expansion is possible for vizag due to hills and agricultural lands nearby. That is why the city can take up the expansion model of Dubai where they developed everything alongside the highway to suite the needs of tourists and travellers. As vizag is a tourist' s paradise, that model suits the city expansion., Hyderabad Metropolitan region area(7257 sq. km.), Hyderabad city area (850 sq. km.) and expanding as the population is increasing and the needs of hyderabad people are much more, so much that there are chances of constructing another outer ring road outside the present outer ring road., By the above stats, we can say that Hyderabad is bigger than vizag in terms of geographical area, but vizag is bigger than hyderabad when it comes to a cosmopolitan culture, that' s because since the establishment of the Naval bases in and around Visakhapatnam (that' s the full name of vizag) there have been different people from different countries, for example, russians work with the Indian navy at the naval dockyard. Many american tourists also come to vizag, not only them there are also koreans in the city. And even from the east asian countries there are tourists and businessmen who come and go to and from the city, mostly chinese, thai , malaysians etc., By this we can conclude that it is meaningless to compare which city is bigger as we cannot arrive at a particular conclusion and every city has its own mode of expansion and its own culture., promoted by Digital Vidya, Hyderabad is better in many ways. It' s a metropolitan city and has better infrastructure but Vizag is no less. As AP has been bifurcated, Vizag will definitely grow to become one of the best cities in India. Metro rail is going to be built in vizag too in the near future. But presently I feel hyderabad is little better., Hai I am taylor I can tell hyderabad is better than vizag . But the city you can only visit to india is vizag. So that you can visit all the historial monuments such as buddhas, and how vizag is before. If you visit andhra pradesh fully without vizag then you dint saw full of andhra pradesh. The only place you visit is vizag. I can tell hyderebad is very bigger than vizag. My best 2 home town ids hyderabad, No doubt Hyderabad is bigger in area and development in comparison to Vizag. Vizag is constrained to grow in planarity because North and South have large Hills and on the East, the Bay of Bengal. If any development takes place then, -in present City, it will be vertical and towards West engulfing Anakapalli, Narsipatnam till Tuni;, -if develops on North then till Vizianagaram, but, it would be remaining as a Separate City unto itself;, -similar is the case on the Southern development., -, promoted by Parveen Travels, If you look at plain geography, Vizag is constrained from 3 directions - sea, kailasa Giri and Dolphin's nose hill and can expand in only one direction. In case of Hyderabad, it can expand in all directions., Below answers anyway answer current status, but from future point of view, Hyderabad can expand easily at a low price compared to Vizag because of its geographical advantage., Hyderabad area is 650 sqkm where as Visakhapatnam is 540 sqkm. So Hyderabad is bigger in terms of area., In terms of population, Hyderabad is over 6,809,970 where as Visakhapatnam is 2,035,922. So Hyderabad is bigger in terms of population according to 2011 sensus., Obviously hydererabad, is bigger geographically , demographically, culturally also linguistically. While Vizag is bestowed with natural things like beach , mountains, greenery and valleys, hyd grew as centre of ruling for many centuries, also tech based city with many central institutions., If you want to take visit vizag is obviously better than hyderabad because of beaches, climate, mountains., If you want to immigrate I think Mumbai, Bangalore is more worthy instead of Hyderabad as there are more job opportunities and culturally also more advantageous., Hyderabad is bigger but vizag is very beautiful place to visit, Hyderabad is bigger than vizag but vizag is better than hyderabad, Hyderabad is bigger than vizag .but vizag is better than hyderabad in terms of cost of living and peace of mind, Hyderabad is bigger than Vizag, Actually vizag is not bigger than Hyderabad as Hyderabad has an average area of 650km<sup>2</sup> but Vizag has only 540km<sup>2</sup>, hyderabad was four times bigger than vizag, Hyderabad for sure, Hyderabad...., Hyderabad is 10 times larger than Vizag., Hyderabad is bigger than vizag, hyderabad is big, Still have a question? Ask your own!][, ad by Digital Vidya, #regarding engineering....., Best Engineering colleges are-, Coming to private college - To get admission into this college you need to attempt "GITAM GAT" exam., Coming to govt colleges -, You can enter into these colleges if you have written a entrance exam "EAMCET" . Given the list of govt colleges in priority wise, 1.A.U - Andhra university., 2. GVP - Gayatri Vidya Parishad( kommadi)., 3. ANITS - Anil Neerukonda Institue of sciences., 4. Raghu Engineering college., 5. Vignan institute of information technology., Best Degree colleges -( bsc/bcom/bba ):, 1.Dr. Lankapalli Bullaya college., 2.Prism degree & p.g college., 3.Aditya college., 4.Mvr college., 5.Gitam., 6.Unity., 7.Sun international institute., But anyhow getting admitted into best college might not bring any difference. One need to put their efforts to understand the subject and get enriched with knowledge to get placed in good field., Happy reading., Be happy and make others happy :), promoted by GREedge, I' ve been living in Visakhapatnam for 22 years now and I guess I am the right person to answer this question., The education system in Vizag is similar to the rest of the major cities in India. There are two major universities in vizag one is the GITAM university which offers many courses like B.tech which include steams like EEE, CSE, ECE, Civil, Instumental engineering etc and it has also started its new medical education with its pilot batch. Coming to fee structure in GITAM university, It will cost you 2.0 lacs per annum for your B.tech course and a paid seat in medicine would cost you sone were around 1 crore to 1.3 crores, The second university is the Andhra university which has a lot more courses than the GITAM university. Andhra university is the state owned university which is being run by the fundings of the state. It is stretched in almost 400 acres and cover a major part in the city.

To get the seat in B.tech you should get a rank some where around 1000 in eamcet and may vary according to the caste based reservation. Apart from this there is also a IIM which had started its pilot batch this year and is going well. There are few more decent degree colleges like samatha degree college, aditya degree college etc. For Engineering in Visakhapatnam, GITAM university is the best. This college is rated A+ university. For students who are planning for masters in Canadian & Australian universities Gitam university certificate will be an asset as its Grade 1 university. Later A.U follows. And when it comes to local affiliated colleges ranking follows depending on Autonomous, Placements factors, Gayatri Vidya Parishad (Kommadi) (JNTUK), Anits (A.U), MVGR (JNTUK), RAGHU (JNTUK), Vignan (JNTUK) ... promoted by Second Life. It depends on the course and your interest. If you want to join in graduation, you have the most reputed Andhra University. It is so far the best in Visakhapatnam. Though it's tough to get a seat through EAMCET, it's the best! The above mentioned have good reputation and are best in Vizag. Also autonomous. 1. Gitam and AU are universities. Depends on what a student wants to pursue. I personally feel there are a couple of colleges which are good. Best college means ... 1) how can you decide which one is the best college or which one is not, 2) If you have a dedication/burning fire towards the success of your's ... then any colleges (private or Govt) may be best to you, 3) If you don't have the commitment then best college also worse, 4) In my notion/view, best college means 'high fee structure' only. Hope you understand. Thank you, Jai Hind, Andhra University, Gitam, GMRIT, MVGR, Gayatri vidhya parshad. These are the best. Gitam is little hi-fi, GMRIT and MVGR are far from city, Andhra University has tough competition (admission through EAMCET), Gayatri Vidhya Parshad is good. But if you ask me it would be great if you try colleges outside Andhra Pradesh and Telangana if you didn't get into top 15 colleges. It is not a good option studying engineering in telugu states if you are not getting seat in Top 15. Opt for colleges out of telugu states which are autonomous by applying their respective admission test. There are only few colleges in Telugu states which are maintaining good standards in terms of infrastructure, faculty and placements. Better try outside our telugu states. It depends on what specific area you are concentrating on!!! For engg: Andhra University, Gayathri vidya parishad, Madhurawada, Gitam, Rushikonda, ANITS, Tagarapuvalasa, Vignan, Duvvada. Other than these few more which are reachable from Vizag are: MVGR & Raghu engg. Best college for which group of study? Different group of studies has different colleges. I believe that if teenagers go to college for studies, those guys love beach to spend time rather than in college in Visakhapatnam. gitam... and AU, Universities - gitam and AU, Colleges - GVP, ANITS, VIGNAN AND RAGHU, Geetam University is best for all the course. It would be more clear if you mention which colleges you are looking for mba, engg, medical etc. Depends on the graduation course you are looking for. Still have a question? Ask your own!], ad by Digital Vidya, Well I could answer you being a native of Visakhapatnam. Yes I feel better to call it as Visakhapatnam to Vizag, that's what many who born there feel comfortable to call. Coming to the question, I wanna take your profession or purpose of visit as standard. If you are here for work, then I'd suggest you to stay near work location. Although traffic isn't a big mess here, still it could make you annoying to cover the entire stretch in a day. Considering that you are making into software industry, I suggest you to stay in Venkoji palem, MVP Colony, Peda Waltair, even at Sagar Nagar (this area takes more time to reach rly stn or rtc complex). These areas are well connected to railway station, rtc complex ( what people in other areas of the state call as stand :P ). You can reach there in 30 mins even by public transport at peaks of traffic. If you are into Navy, I suggest you to stay in NAD junction, Kakani Nagar or Karasa. If you are here for studying, stay at MVP or Ushodaya or Siripuram or Dwaraka Nagar or Sri nagar or Akkayyapalem or NAD junction ( If you could travel an extra mile ;) ), If you are being here for not aforementioned reasons, stay in Akkayyapalem. Believe me it is a heaven, except for traffic issue. You can have anything in a radius of 4km if you don't find any, it is highly certain that it may not be available in Visakhapatnam. Definitely, it'll be the greatest phase of your life. Have a happy stay in Visakhapatnam. :), Have any other questions, u can ping me :), promoted by GREedge, Depends on your Choice of Living and Budget. My Personal Suggestion is : MVP Colony, Seethammadhara - Fits Budget & Neat Locality, I was born & brought up in vizag, i lived here for 25 years, the beauty of city lies with the beautiful hearts of natives & the bonding they have with nature. Kindly jot down one important thing here: They may not help you in every aspect but they will never wanna cheat/harm you. it is place where you can get anything and everything from (needle to rocket) , (idly to Italian fungus), (riboflavina to Harvoni), (Poor to filthy). you can discover your home right at many beautiful streets of the city. My city has occupied very less area which can be commutable within 2 hours (end to end). Just by paying 6k to 12k you can get a 2BHK flat or a great individual house at the following area. (Which are best places to live), 1. Akkayyapalem, 2. Balayyasastri Layout, 3. Lalitha Nagar, 4. Near NAD junction ( Ganesh nagar & Shanti nagar), 5. Muvvalavanipalem (MVP), 6. Ram Nagar, 7. Railway New colony, 8. Murali nagar, 9.Kirlampudi layout , 10. CBM Compound / VIP Road, 11. Seetharama Nagar, 12. Vishalakshi Nagar / Doctors's colony, Note: I ignored many other famous places just because of water, power, air & noise pollution and a major commute constraints., , I've lived in Vizag for quite some time, so I guess I'm qualified enough to answer it!, I've rented apartments and lived in CBM compound, Lawson's Bay Colony, and in front of RK Beach. And I think Lawson's bay colony or MVP colony's sector 12 and 11 or necessarily any area north of Andhra University till the MVP double road is best to live., The reason being, nothing is too far from there, especially beach(which I went to daily!) and the area is quite peaceful and relatively cheap while not dropping the standards! That area really hits the sweet spot for a middle class guy!, Hope I answered your question!, promoted by Worldquant University, I am born and brought up in vizag.. city of destiny has been my first love ever since I started exploring the city. The climate here is comforting and I can tell vizagites are beautiful in and out., Coming to ur question: one of the best places to live in vizag is MVP colony and places like siripuram, waltair uplands , asilmetta , CBM compound, kirlampudi layout, isukathota , and lawsons bay are very apt for living but they may cost you. Gajuwaka , kancharapalem , gopalapatnam, NAD X roads are the places which a person with average salary of 10-15k can live comfortably., P.s : this is my very first answer on Quora. So spare me if there are any mistakes., Though MVP and Lawson's Bay colony are good residential areas, they are quite expensive and have reached their saturation point as well(crowded). So, the areas like Sriharipuram, Ex-Servicemen Colony, Gullelapalem VUDA colony are quite good to live in. These areas are cheap, posh(mostly) and well-connected as well. Almost, all shopping malls have their branches in Gajuwaka which is a just a stone's throw away from these areas. The areas are leafy, upscale and have a lot of open spaces including well-developed and maintained grounds by GVMC. We can reach RTC Complex in just 20-25 minutes by bus route no. 400(all). Also it is well connected to NAD, RK Beach and Railway Stations. You will surely enjoy here as it is a very cosmopolitan area( even more than Vizag's prime localities!) because of Navy and Public Sector Industries. The roads are good and wider than in most parts of Vizag., Resident : Adarsh Nagar , Born and brought up in vizag., If your budget is below Rs.5k rent per month and you want 2BHK then areas like PM. Palem, Madhurawada, Kommadi, Kancharapalem, Gopalapatnam are best., If your budget is more than Rs. 5k then you can go for areas like Seethammadhara, H.B.Colony, M.V.P, Lawsons Bay, Asilmetta, Siripuram, Ramnagar. , Pollution levels are high in areas like Poorna Market, Town Kotha Road, Kurupam Market, 1 town. Rents are low in these areas., As someone who has been staying in Uplands, Asilmetta for almost his entire life, I'll be slightly biased towards it, but here comes my answer., Asilmetta/Siripuram/CBM Compound/Ramnagar:, The best areas to live in IMHO., Schools? Sri Prakash and Timpany a stone's throw away., You literally have approximately 15 campuses of the infamous junior colleges of Andhra-Narayana and Sri Chaitanya along with their unholy combination-"Chaina" around you. Even FIITJEE at Dwarakanagar is 10 min. away at max., Hospitals? Seven Hills, Care, Apollo just beside you., Complex? 5 min. from your home., Railway station? Sometimes faster to reach to than complex because of the awesome flyover., Shopping? Oh please, you have the the entire Sampath Vinayaka Temple road with its umpteen malls at your disposal., And I don't know why we have Josalukkas, Joyalukkas (Yes they're different), Kirtlial, Malabar, GRT, Kalyan, Mohammed Khan and Sons and what not jewelers on the same road. , Groceries? Spencers and Karachiwala. Enough said., Food? Foodex, Dutt Island (PCC, Ice Age), Domino's, CCD, Sweet India...almost everything on the same road, and not to mention the ever tasty Venkatadri Vantillu., CMR Central is 10 min. away., And almost everything worth visiting.. Jagadamba, Beach and any other place is usually only 10-20 min. away., Dwarakanagar is always available for shopping., My mom and dad used to travel a lot since they were both working. Both me and my sister practically lived beside our school (Sri Prakash) and our junior colleges (Narayana _/¥_). We practically raised ourselves without 24x7 parent presence very comfortably because everything we needed was so near. , The area is also very safe. My mom would frequently come back at 11 pm from Complex without any issues., Public transportation is easily available until 10:30-11:00 pm (not buses, but autos). Buses are available for almost the entire day with the Complex being the hub for RTC services in the city., Since this is literally the city center, the overall maintenance and cleanliness of the region is quite good., The power situation here is excellent, and we did not experience any power cut lasting for more than 20 min. in the last three years (except for Hudhud) and if you stay in an apartment complex, you need not worry since almost every society has back-up gensets., And speaking of Hudhud, we were one of the first areas to return to normalcy because the Municipal Commissioner stays on VIP Road., As for rents, Ramnagar is slightly cheaper AFAIK, compared to the other areas that I've mentioned., MVP Colony and Seethammadhara are also decent places, but they are just too far from everything., And living on the Beach Road means many of your possessions will start to rust (Have you seen the satellite dishes? xD). But hey, the Beach Road is not that far off from Asilmetta, hardly a 5 min. scooty ride, because there is minimal traffic on the roads, and it gives beautiful views., Please do remember that living in the city center does have its perks :), I have gone through all the answers mentioned below., I have lived in Vizag for almost 15+ years. It is like heaven for me. If you can afford a bike during your period of stay, you will love it. Within 75++ mins you can reach the other end of the city, considering the traffic. If you find a less-traffic day, you can span the same distance within 60 mins I guess, where I am considering Madhurawada (areas around) to Gajuwaka (areas around). So, travelling is not a problem if you have your private vehicle., When you are asking for the best place to stay in Vizag, there are so many variables to be considered., If you really want to live a peaceful life, enjoying nature, morning walks, green environment and all. Opt for the outskirts of the city. Towards Madhurawada, Yendada, and all. You will have low rentals with amazing environment and less pollution. I see the same with Seethammadhara, Akkayapalem (a bit populated though) and Lawsons Bay. Rushikonda is also a peaceful place to stay, with the beach just 5-10 mins away from you., Gajuwaka, NAD and all are quite polluted, to be frank. So please don't opt for those regions. Vizag, overall, is THE city of destiny. You won't feel like leaving once you start living in Vizag., Coming to the question now. The best place I will recommend is P.M. Palem. Environmental friendly, less pollution, getting crowded these days (I accept), you have a cricket ground next to you, hills, birds, fresh air, and PEACE! 20 mins away from Beach (sagar nagar), clubs, core city, shopping centres, AU, GITAM, many other colleges and all., More than 10 years in P.M. Palem and I love it., Vizag is a peaceful place to live. It is less polluted. You can see a variety of areas., If you are a student or a job holder earning nearly rs 10,000, Maddilapalem, Thatichetlapalem, kancherapalem would be better place to live., If your salary is below 10,000 then gyanapuram, areas near poorna market, town Kotha Road would be better. These are semi slums., If you are employed above 20,000 pm. then MVP colony, East Point Colony, Peddawalair, Lawsons bay colony are the best., If you are a peace lover, I would like to suggest P.M Palem, Madhurwada, Sagarnagar, Bheemili because they are pollution free areas., MVP Colony, as it's closer to the beach., If you are looking for something that's more connected to the city, Seethammadhara would be an ideal location., Siripuram is a good area too., I would suggest MVP colony. I stayed there for 4 years while i was doing my B.E. It has nearby market (vegetables), Reliance fresh, good restaurants (Sizzlers, Fringe, Delicacies and many more), Bakery, near to Tenneti Park, Sivaji Park, near to CMR central. The street food is also good. Isukathota junction is famous for Bajjis. If budget is not a constraint, then you may as well prefer lawson's bay colony, RK beach apartments., It Depends., If you want to live in residential area then go for MVP one of the best place to stay in vizag. If you are a student or you are working then MVP would be best choice. You can get fully furnished apartments with a reasonable rent. If you want to go for movies you can easily go to CMR central which is 3km from MVP., MVP to railway station 6.5KM., MVP to complex (bus station) 5KM., And the best part is MVP is in between of beach road and national highway., If you want some peacefully areas then I will suggest visalakshinagar and sagarnagar. Both are residential areas., Based on your economic status. More u afford the rich and class habitat u get. However check out these top 10 areas in vizag. I'm suggesting in descending order of their standard., 1. DASPALLA HILLS, 2. BEACH UPLANDS., 3. SIRIPURAM, 4. LAWSONS BAY, 5. SEETHAMMA DHARA, 6. MVP COLONY, 7. CBM CAMPOUND, 8. VISALAKSHI NAGAR, 9. As per my experience, you should start small all by yourself (with ethical partners) with some administrative and financial controller umbrella; Ofcourse, unless your investment itself is in 10s and 100s of crores. But, whatever the scenario, your idea will be prone for robbery. So do think again – lay your copyright/IP right correctly, create a prototype, start the business and then go for VC for traction, rather than going for Angel investors. But if you are really keen, try out some incubators provided by Indian government, Universities like IIT/IIM/Nasscom, etc. They will be more ethical even if your initial business traction and initial investment might be lower with them. You should try the above list in the inverse order for an ethical treatment and investment as per market/media reports/ranking. Its your choice though; and this is my definitely my personal opinion/view and may be biased., promoted by Zoho, How to Execute Great Ideas, Entrepreneurs typically have no shortage of ideas, but this creative strength can quickly become a weakness if the ideas aren't managed well. The constant messages running through a solopreneur's mind might include thoughts like, 'I should get moving on that.' 'What if I miss out on something big?' 'Too many ideas, too little time.' 'I wish I had the money to make this happen, it's such a great idea.' This brain-clutter will bring a truckload of great ideas to a screeching halt before they even get on the road, so let's take a look at how to unload the excess cargo!, Taking a systematic approach isn't always easy for the right-brained, creative solopreneur. But to get these ideas off the ground, that's what we have to do. So whether your idea is about a new product, marketing or other growth or organizational opportunities, here are a few of these tips to move it forward - or take it off the list once and for all., Get them out of your head and onto paper. Having all of this brilliance trapped in your brain is exhausting - it wants out! Begin by sorting out your ideas; big and small. Categorize and prioritize them based on your needs: Do you need immediate revenue? Do you need to improve your branding? Do you need to get systems into place? Do you need to satisfy client demands? Or do you simply need to have more fun by utilizing your creativity in a new way? Now choose ONE idea (yes, just one) and apply some or all of the following strategies., Examine and Expand. When your idea is in its initial stages take a curious, no pressure approach. Rather than putting pressure on yourself to find a way to make the idea work, simply ask 'what if' questions., 'What if this idea was in place right now, what would be different because of it?' 'What if I could see this idea as something bigger than it is right now, how would it look?', Just have fun, exploring the concept like a child might explore a playground. Introducing playfulness can reduce your stress and allow room for further creativity., Compare your idea or strategy to your vision and mission statements. Is there synergy? Does it really fit in with your long term goals? Does it change anything in a way that you must explore or does it just confuse the picture? Is it too far off the mark or does it fit in seamlessly with the big picture?, Sometimes we get a 'great idea' and being wrapped up in the energy of it all can cause us to lose track of our true vision. Getting sidetracked like this can take you off your path and on a long, bumpy detour. You may or may not end up in the right place!, Apply the S.W.O.T. analysis steps to your idea. Draw a quadrant on a piece of paper or write down the four categories on your mindmap or whiteboard. Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, Threats., After examining your concept and listing everything you can think of in each of the four areas, explore your thoughts on the following:, Is there danger of a strength becoming a weakness?Can you convert a weakness to an opportunity?Can weaknesses be minimized or eliminated?, Bringing this information together, to assess the most promising opportunities and the most crucial issues is where you will find the greatest value in a SWOT analysis. Then you can take your idea further or take it off your plate altogether., Look at latest trends. If you are bringing a new product or service to the market, does it meet your clients' needs in a way that is new, refreshing and creative? Will it stand out or get lost in the chaos? Again, introduce non-threatening, stress-free exploration of your idea to see how you can make it different and/or better from the rest., Brainstorm with friends and peers. I know I've said this more times than I can count, but solo doesn't mean alone! Don't take it on all by yourself. Ask creative and strategic people to work with you and have fun with it. Remember that you chose to be your own boss because you love the freedom. Being glued to your ideas in a stressful, lonely way doesn't make it a very enjoyable experience!, Here's a fun idea – Go somewhere different to work through your ideas. I love to work in a decadent hotel lobby or a coffee shop or bookstore I've never been to. Somehow, this creates a new level of excitement for my planning and brainstorming and really helps me tap into that playful side. What works for you, Lot of answers are already written on how you must prepare your strong case to meet Mukesh Ambani or anyone else. Here I am assuming you have already done so and now you need to meet up with them. For that I would suggest following, 1) Contact their respective office., This is the most simple and straight forward way of meeting with anyone. Connect their office and get in touch with their secretaries. They shall then understand why do you need to meet with their boss and if they are convinced only then they will set your appointment with him, because if you turn out to be a waste of their time, then the poor sec. will have to take the heat of it., 2) Set and build your circle., If business is what you want to discuss with Ambani, then if I was in your place I would first start by building by circle and making my creditably. I would have put all the papers of my company or project that I want to discuss with him and along with that I would work on making social case for myself and my company., If you and your company are associated with Business Groups/clubs such as ASSOCHAM, FICCI, CII etc. then the same definately adds to your credibility and your business reputation. The views expressed are personal), Its successes demonstrate that it is possible to create high-performing public sector organisations, Rarely is an agency of the government of India associated with the development of cutting-edge technology and global standards in execution. The Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) is an exceptional case. In fact, by launching 104 satellites from a single rocket on Wednesday, it has now set the global standard in a field (or more accurately space) in which only a few nations even dare to dabble. But what is it about ISRO that makes it stand for excellence when a plethora of government agencies suffer from severe challenges in terms of capacity and execution? What makes ISRO tick could help show us the way to create other high-performing government organisations., More autonomy, For a start, ISRO is fortunate that it reports to the Prime Minister and his office rather than a line ministry. This has been critical to its success. In line ministries, ministers and bureaucrats have a tendency to micromanage their turf, and this includes autonomous bodies, agencies and enterprises. More often than not, there will be a senior official along with a set of junior officials who have direct charge of supervising the affairs of an agency. The Prime Minister's Office (PMO) works differently given that its remit cuts across all government departments. Its officials would certainly not have the time or the mindspace to supervise the affairs of a single institution. ISRO, therefore, has a real autonomy that most other government agencies do not., Location matters, The geographical location of the organisation also matters in terms of creating an appropriate ecosystem to nurture excellence. A number of critical government-run organisations and enterprises are either headquartered in Delhi (because it's the seat of the Union Government) or are in places that have had some political salience to the ruling dispensation at the time they were set up. Neither scenario may be optimal from the point of view of an agency. Being located in Delhi will leave it particularly vulnerable to the diktats of the parent ministry and the slow-moving, cautious culture of an omnipresent bureaucracy. And a politically salient location outside Delhi may not have the ecosystem to feed knowledge creation and build capabilities. ISRO, headquartered in Bengaluru, is distant from Delhi and immune from the capital's drawbacks. More importantly, it is located in the appropriate geography in what is India's science and technology hub. It has the right ecosystem to attract talent and build its knowledge capabilities more than most government agencies do., Needless to say, human capital is critical to the success of an organisation. Unlike many government agencies which are staffed by generalists, ISRO is staffed by specialists right from its technocratic top management. ISRO is also more agnostic than most government agencies about cooperating with and working with the best in the private sector. The building blocks of many of ISRO's successes come from outside the government system., Learning the right lessons from ISRO's example is crucial for India. The conventional view is that the government is poor in project execution and if one looks at the state of infrastructure or of the quality of public services that is not an unreasonable conclusion to reach. What ISRO shows is that it is possible, indeed feasible, for the government to build high-performing organisations/agencies. This is not an argument for a big government. Instead, it is an argument for building top quality institutions in a limited number of areas where the government's role cannot be substituted by the private sector. Cutting-edge research and development in spheres where there may not be ready profits is one area the government should focus on building ISRO-like institutions. Defence could be one such. A completely reformed Defence Research and Development Organisation based out of Pune or Bengaluru (not Delhi) which reports to the PMO and which actively collaborates with the private sector would be worth considering. Or a central vaccine agency, based in Ahmedabad or Pune, which focusses on solutions to under-researched diseases., Of course, not every government organisation will be engaged in cutting-edge technology breakthroughs nor can every organisation report to the Prime Minister. Still, independence from line ministries is important for a high performing organisation., The trouble is that it is not easy to change the nature of institutions by tinkering with them. There is a path dependency in the way institutions evolve. The creation of high performing government bodies requires starting from scratch and focussing on a few basics: real autonomy from ministries, right geographical location/appropriate ecosystem, a team of specialists, partnership with the private sector and operating only in spheres where there is no alternative to government. The creation of a handful of such agencies could have a transformative effect., Footnotes, [1] Working on the ISRO principle, promoted by Digital Vidya, I'll like to bring out few points from my experience of working in ISRO as a Scientist/Engineer-SC., PS: We are Scientists but we don't wear white overcoats., PPS: I'm a Scientist/Engineer-SC at Liquid Propulsion Systems Center, ISRO, Valiamala, Thiruvananthapuram, Kerala, working on Semi-cryogenic engine development and fabrication., I should assume that you mean by your question if the work ethics and culture is conducive for individual development and growth at ISRO?, I worked at the Vikram Sarabhai Space Centre for a little over 4 years and at the ISRO Satellite Centre for 4 years 6 months. In both these places, there was no bureaucracy to any significant extent. My boss Dr CL Amba Rao, who had worked for a number of years in a US aircraft company, was 4 ranks above me. Yet I and others of similar ranks and age group could freely discuss issues with Dr Rao. My immediate bosses, Drs IS Raju and G Venkateshwara Rao, helped me out in the learning process with great affection and diligence. It was never a boss, subordinate relationship. They decided that I should present our results of the analysis on an aspect of the launch Vehicle SLV3 to Dr APJ Abdul Kalam, who was the Project Director., I had intimate friends from different departments and we continue to be friends. Madan Lal Singla, Chaman Lal Ojha, late Anjan Ghosh, late Gourav Joshi, NT Unnikrishnan, late SK Bansal and a host of others. Importantly, my learning here got me a Commonwealth Fellowship in the UK. Thanks to what I was taught and what I learnt at ISRO, I completed my doctorate degree in 3 years., When I returned to India, Prof UR Rao selected me for a suitable employment. My boss Dr MSS Prabhu gave me great freedom and taught me a lot. From my colleagues Drs DH Bonde and M Sambasiva Rao, my learning was always beneficial. Here too I had friends from other departments, notably SK Shivakumar, who later became director of ISRO Satellite Centre, to mention just one friend., To sum up: great learning in conducive atmosphere is possible and feasible at ISRO. Only that one has to work hard., Well not so boring and not so interesting either. Work is good, pay is good so yes its going good., But like all other government jobs, work is same everyday so at times it gets boring as well., But because of fixed work hours, I have enough time to devote for my hobbies and passion., So ya all in all, it's good at ISRO!, It was very good and challenging. No work was repetitive. At least during our time it was all the work in the formation of the first time and new design and development. It was extremely good and also challenging. But the work pressure is high and that has not changed. I presume so, Still have a question? Ask your own!
